To whom it may concern,

It is with a pleasure I write this letter of recommendation for Phi. To introduce myself, I am Phi's professor who taught COSC1336: Computer Science and Programming, a first course for those majoring the computer science. Among 216 students I taught in fall 2024, he was one of top 5 students who outperformed nearly everyone by a great margin – his final grade was 102.95 when the class average was 75.19. He has done all his assignments with excellence throughout the semester and received a near perfect scores. He also performed well all the miterm and final exams. Finally, some of extra credit works – the works that go beyond what are being taught in my class – he submitted, he scored the highest in my class. Not only these works require an extensive understanding over Python programming skill but they also required a great deal of time and effort to complete. I was thoroughly impressed by his excellence and passions he demonstrated through his works.

Though I have not known him long enough, I was greatly impressed with his work ethics, persistence and brilliance through the semester. I am confident he will be highly productive and passionate for whatever tasks he is given. Therefore, I wholeheartedly recommend Phi. Feel free to contact me if you have any questions in regard to Phi.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Chang Yun, Ph.D.
